

Di Tian

Di, a native of China, came to Stony Brook in January 1986. He conducted his research on surface structure in the Materials Science department's labs and received the TA Pond Award in March of 1987 for sharing, with one other student, the highest grade on the Physics Department's comprehensive exam.